7. [] Called George Murphy, Joint Committee on Atomic Energy staff, regarding the article by Dan Thomasson that appeared in yesterday's Washington Star-News. I told Murphy that since he had been a point of contact for Senator Baker with us in reviewing our sensitive file perhaps he could tell me if he knew anything about the 22 page study referred to in the article. Murphy said he had no information about such a document, if, in fact, it existed.

In the course of our conversation Murphy mentioned that he had not had an opportunity to make a report to Senator Baker on his review of our sensitive file prior to the Senator's departure to Puerto Rico last week. He said he will be in touch with Senator Baker when he returns and plans to make a low-key suggestion to him that he might want to consider direct contact with Mr. Colby if he has any concerns or reservations about the Agency's relationship to any of the events in the Watergate affair. I stressed to Murphy that I was not suggesting that he do this, but of course, he was at liberty to make whatever suggestion he wished.

[] McConnell said he had a call in to [] to discuss the matter with him and to suggest that someone from the intelligence community be present at a meeting at 2:30 p.m. on Monday which will be attended by Senators McClellan and Young and Messrs. Calloway and McConnell, of the Committee staff. He said [] will be meeting with them at 2:30 and if Mr. Colby wanted to be present for this entire session he was welcome to attend. I told him I would pass this message along.

9. [] Hand-carried to Ed Braswell, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, Mr. Colby's letter of 28 November transmitting responses to certain questions raised during his briefing of the Committee on 6 November. Braswell said he would place the letter and its attachments with the transcript of that hearing for safe keeping.
